ANOTHER FISHMARKET

Will Shortly Be Opened for Business in Honolulu.

In a few weeks Honolulu is to have another fishmarket.

The building is now nearly completed. It has been erected at the corner of King and Kekaulike streets by Yong Tock. It is to be called the Oahu Market and is one of the most sanitary buildings of the kind in the city.

About a year ago the City Market was erected by a company in Kekaulike street. From the start it prospered as most of the people using fish here in large quantities live in the Ewa section of the city and could easily reach the new market. The new market has driven the Government market, near the Navy Station, almost out of business, and Yong Tock, one of the stockholders of the City Market, now considers that a new market near the City Market can also get a good deal of business. His new building is made entirely of steel and iron glass, the latter for the roof, and this is supported by immense iron pillars. The floor is of concrete. It will contain fifty-six stalls.

The building has a frontage of 100 feet on King street and 110 feet on Kekaulike street.

Rubber stamps made every day at the Gazette office.

ELLIS BOYS TO PARIS

Hawaiian Singers Will Have Their Voices Trained.

Honolulu is shortly to lose two of its well known musicians in John Ellis and William Ellis, who leave in July on the steamship Mongolia for San Francisco en route to Paris.

Both the Ellis boys have decided upon a distinctly musical career and to this end expect to spend the next four years in hard study at the Parisian capital. John Ellis has been receiving premier instruction here in recent months from Gerard Barton, organist and composer, with a view to ultimately going abroad for the final cultivation of his voice.

John Ellis, known as the Hawaiian tenor, has a remarkably clear, strong and sympathetic voice, one which is believed to be a valuable asset if properly trained. He has had long experience before the public, and his recent appearance at the Opera House with Madame Slapoffsky in a duet from Il Trovatore showed that he was endowed with a voice peculiarly gifted for operatic work.

William Ellis, equally well known in the local musical field, has not the voice possessed by his brother, but it is one which will show great improvement with instruction. Mrs. John Ellis and child will accompany the young men, Mrs. William Ellis remaining in San Francisco for some time.

Berger Appreciated.

Miss McLeod, principal of the Kawaiahae Seminary, sent the following letter of thanks to Captain Berger, leader of the Hawaiian Government band, which is self-explanatory:

Captain H. Berger, City.
My Dear Capt. Berger: I was so busy the day your band played for the school that I did not see you to thank you for your kindness, and as I left that afternoon for Kauai, and only reached home on Sunday of this week, I have not, until now, had any further opportunity.
Please accept sincere thanks for your kindness in contributing so much pleasure to the occasion of our closing; the favor is sincerely appreciated.
Cordially yours,
KATHERYN C. McLEOD,
Principal.

COMMODORE COOPER ELECTED BY YACHTSMEN

Henry E. Cooper has been elected commodore of the Hawaii Yacht Club in the place of ex-Commodore Whitney resigned, and the Corinthians are enthusiastic over the securing of so able and willing an executive. Mr. Cooper was the first choice of the club for the post and the members are congratulating themselves on having succeeded in getting him to take hold believing him to possess just the administrative capacity that will build up the club.

Mr. Cooper is himself an enthusiastic yachtsman whenever he finds time for his favorite pastime which he will doubtless enjoy more in the future. He owns a speedy little sloop and a fast launch, the Manuwal, which are kept at his Peninsula residence.

It is expected that something in the nature of a benefit will shortly be organized for the club which has been laboring under the burden of a newly erected club house and several craft built for the pleasure of its members. Allan Dunn has been asked to suggest some scheme whereby money may be raised before he leaves for the mainland. He will submit a prospective plan this week.

Carter, representing Fred Carter's interests, also departed for Hilo on the Kilauea.

WHEN THE TIMES GET GOOD.

Are feeling sort of gloomy
As the fortnights wane and wax;
If "prosperity" has caught you
Where the chicken got the ax;
Don't give up in deep despondency
Nor on your troubles brood,
For the losses will be lighter when the Times

Get Good.

If your "confidence" is weakenin'
With nothing good in sight,
Until it seems Dame Fortune
Just turns you down for spite,
Keep your temper, don't get wrathful,
For your luck will change its mood,
And you'll do a smashing business when the Times

Get Good.

If the bottom seems a droppin'
Out of everything you've got,
And you'd like to just give up
Your little ghost upon the spot,
Stave it off a little longer
And let me but conclude
Things will go as slick as 'lasses when the Times

Get Good.

KANOA CANNOT LOSE HIS NAME

Kanoa, a middle-aged native, was arrested yesterday afternoon and charged with assault and battery on a small boy. When brought into the receiving station the clerk asked him his name. He gravely rolled up his right sleeve and tattooed in large letters was the word: "KANOAK." By turning this around the name was "Kanoa." He explained that when he was a very small boy his father, a whaler, placed the marks upon his arm presumably to identify him in case he should outgrow his former appearance during the absence of the father on a whaling cruise.

The charge against Geo. Fisher, a sailor, of larceny of goods from the Sailors' Home was dismissed for want of prosecution in the Police Court yesterday morning, but later in the day a new warrant was issued for Fisher's arrest, on a charge of stealing a coat, valued at five dollars, and a "pipe, valued at ten cents," from Henry Goulden.

ORPHEUM ATTRACTION FRIDAY NIGHT.

SILVA, THE "PUNCHBOWL WONDER."

This morning the sale opens for the big fistic program set for Friday evening at the Orpheum. Manager Cohen has for a long time kept up the interest locally in ring-side events which he first started by giving first class inducements to clever men to come here and furnishing good programs and Friday evening, probably the last time he will bring a boxing tournament together as he leaves for the Coast by the Alameda, offers the best set of bouts yet set out for one evening's entertainment.

Barry, popular "Dave," who has won many friends, not only from his cleverly and cleanly earned victories but from his own manly personality, goes back to the Coast on the Alameda also and there are many who want to see "Dave" in action once more before he goes. Many of the local sports say that even if they knew Barry was going to whip Kelly again for sure they would go in the anticipation of their full money's worth basing their conviction on the first plucky fight put up by Kelly who now meets Dave with many things in his favor.

It must not be lost sight of that though Barry licked Kelly he was only returning the compliment and that Kelly was practically whipped in the fierce infighting which will not be possible under the breakaway conditions of this contest. Then too Kelly is in far better shape than he was in the first fight. Altogether the odds do not stand heavily on either side.

Curiously enough, the main event, long and lively as it promises to be, does not seem to be attracting the most talk. The return of Huihui to the ring and his meeting with Silva, the "Husky" from Punchbowl, is arousing the most enthusiasm, even over the prospects of a really wonderful little scrap between Modlin and Castro. Silva evidently realizes that the eyes of Punchbowl are upon him and that as he is somewhat of a ladies' man it is up to him to win or not be welcomed on Lusatian lands any more. He is training hard and Barry has to restrain his enthusiasm. He is enormously strong and with Billy Woods behind him to jolly him along he is not likely to get rattled.

Huihui everyone knows. He is trained to a hair and is of course cleverer than Silva though he will not feel well if he gets up against one of those Punchbowl swings. The native element is behind him and he will fight a cool aggressive fight baited with sundry little traps that Silva had better beware of.

Castro is in fine shape and the go-between him and Modlin really promises to be the show event of the night. Modlin resents deeply the insinuation that Decker was as much entitled to a decision as he was at their last meeting and he will try and prove his mettle on the boy from Guam. Little Castro is nobody's easy prey however and is as cool as his opponent and as clever. He is gamey clean through and if Modlin is credited with a terrible punch, so is Castro. The bout will be fast from start to finish.

Nigel Jackson will furnish another preliminary against an Hawaiian aspirant for lightweight honors, Hupa by name. If ever the house was crowded for a boxing program it should be on Friday aside from the probability that it will be the last collection of really first rate events for some time to come.
